

Crosswords: Production

Across

- output measured against the inputs
- production done by machines but operated by people
- production techniques used by business to cut down any waste
- production method where single product is made at a time
- acronym for Total Quality Management
- production method where the production line is divided into separate units
- method where quantity of a product made at one time.
- benefits of producing on large scale

Down

- continuous improvement
- margin of time between the date stock received and the date when sold.
- system of ordering used alongside JIT production.
- Difference between the cost of inputs and final selling price
- method eliminating the need to hold stock
- method where large quantities of a product are produced
- acronym for Computer aided designing